Abstract: Provides that the standard of knowledge for a candidate making a false statement about another candidate in the election is "knows or should be reasonably expected to know".

Present law (ethics code) prohibits a candidate in an election from, with the intent to mislead the voters, distributing or causing to be distributed any oral, visual, or written material containing any statement which he knows makes a false statement about another candidate in the election.

Proposed law changes the standard of knowledge of such false statements to knows or should be reasonably expected to know regarding a false statement and otherwise retains the present law prohibition.

Present law (R.S. 42:1153), for violations of the Code of Governmental Ethics and other laws within jurisdiction of the Board of Ethics, by an elected official or other person (except violations of the Campaign Finance Disclosure Act which are governed by that Act) authorizes the board by a majority vote of the membership to censure the elected official or person, or impose a fine of not more than $10,000, or both. For such violations by a public employee or other person, authorizes the board by the same vote to remove, suspend, or order a reduction in pay or demotion of the public employee or other person, or impose a fine of not more than $10,000, or both. Present law applies to violations of proposed law.
