Subject: In-state residency status for military members and veterans

Present law authorizes public postsecondary institutions to charge nonresident tuition fees greater than those authorized for residents and that certain members of the U.S. military shall be classified as state residents for tuition fee purposes. Proposed law repeals outdated provisions in present law, and aligns state veterans tuition policy with federal law.

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

According to the Veterans Access, Choice and Accountability Act of 2014, all public postsecondary institutions are required to offer in-state tuition rates to qualified veterans and their dependents, regardless of residency status. This measure aligns state law with federal law.

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
