Subject: Increases Maximum Imprisonment for Negligent Homicide	Analyst: Daniel Druilhet

CRIME/PUNISHMENT OR SEE FISC NOTE GF EX Page 1 of 1
 Increases the maximum period of imprisonment for negligent homicide. (8/1/26)

Current law provides that whoever commits the crime of negligent homicide shall be sentenced as follows - (1) for a victim 10 years of age or older, 10 years imprisonment, with or without hard labor, or fined no more than $5,000 or both; for a victim less than 10 years of age, imprisonment for no less than two nor more than 10 years, at hard labor, without benefit of parole, probation, or suspension of sentence. Proposed law retains current law, with the exception that it increases the maximum period of imprisonment from 10 years to 15 years regardless of the victim's age; provides that an offender who was over the age of 17 at the time of the offense was committed will be imprisoned for no less than two nor more than 40 years, if the victim was less than 17 years of age and the death was the result of either intentional or criminally negligent mistreatment, abuse, or neglect.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in SGF expenditures in the Department of Public Safety and Corrections-Corrections Services (DPS&C-CS) to the extent that offenders convicted of negligent homicide (regardless of the age of the victim) are subject to longer sentences with the proposed law's enactment. Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in SGF expenditures in the Department of Public Safety and Corrections, to the extent that offenders under the age of 17 are convicted of negligent homicide of victims under the age of 17, and the death was the result of either intentional or criminally negligent mistreatment, abuse, or neglect. The proposed law has the effect of increasing the maximum amount of time that an offender can be sentenced for negligent homicide from not more than ten years to not more than fifteen years, and it creates new circumstances (victims and offenders both under age 17) and associated penalties (a sentence of not less than two nor more than forty years imprisonment) under which an offender can be convicted for negligent homicide. Any impact on either state or local expenditures is contingent on whether offenders sustain either a misdemeanor or felony-grade convictions for their violation. The exact fiscal impact is indeterminable, because it is not known the number of offenders who will be convicted or the lengths of the sentences that will be imposed. The maximum sentence for negligent homicide is no more than forty years of imprisonment.

To the extent that offenders sustain a felony-grade conviction for violation of the proposed law, DPS&C-CS will sustain an indeterminable increase in expenditures. For those convicted, sentenced, and then subsequently housed in a state facility, DPS&C-CS will sustain expenditures of $107.60 per offender per day. For those housed in local facilities, DPS&C-CS will sustain expenditures of $29.39 per offender per day. DPS&C-CS advises that impacts on offender populations are anticipated to impact the number of offenders held in local facilities, and that in managing its offender population, it seeks to fill all beds in state facilities first, then assigns overflow offenders to local facilities.

To the extent that offenders sustain a misdemeanor conviction for violation of R.S. 14:32(C)(1), local governing authorities will sustain Local Funds expenditures. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation to local governing authorities is indeterminable, since it is not known how many people will be convicted and incarcerated in local facilities, nor the length of the sentences assessed with those convictions as a result of its potential enactment.
