Abstract: Makes changes to law applicable to filings of business entities with the secy. of state.

Present law generally requires the names of business entities to be distinguishable from one another. Proposed law retains present law.

Present law authorizes a corporation to have a name non-distinguishable from that of another business entity, if the latter entity consents in writing.

Proposed law retains present law and requires the latter entity to consent in writing that it is (1) changing its name, (2) ceasing business, or (3) becoming liquidated. Requires such consent to be filed with the articles.

If the latter entity is a foreign corporation, proposed law authorizes the non-distinguishable name change if the foreign corporation is withdrawing from business in the state of La. Requires such consent to be filed with the articles.

Present law requires corporations to submit certain proposed corporate names to the office of financial institutions at least 10 days prior to the filing of articles of incorporation with the secy. of state.

Proposed law changes the time frame from 10 days to 14 days.

Present law requires a foreign corporation to register its corporate name and a certificate of existence with the secy. of state. Proposed law retains present law and requires the certificate of existence to be dated within 90 days of its receipt by the secy. of state.

Proposed law changes the definition of "corporation" to include partnerships and generally requires partnership names to be distinguished from names of other business entities.

Proposed law adds "limited liability companies" and "foreign limited liability companies" as business entities that may act as corporate agents for service of process.

Present law requires a certificate of incorporation to show a business entity's authority to act as agent for service of process. Proposed law retains present law and adds certificates of organization as an additional means to show such authority.

Present law requires a limited liability company to submit certain proposed partnership names to the office of financial institutions at least 10 days prior to the filing of articles of organization with the secy. of state.

Proposed law changes the time frame from 10 days to 14 days.

Proposed law requires a foreign limited liability company seeking conversion to a domestic limited liability corporation to provide a copy of its articles of organization as provided in present law (R.S. 12:1305).
