Bill Information

Current Law

Under current law, a member of the Municipal Police Employees’ Retirement System (MPERS) is entitled to a survivor’s benefit payable to each eligible surviving child if a surviving child is under age 18 and is not married at the time of the member’s death. Furthermore, the survivor’s benefit will continue to be paid to the surviving child until his 23rd birthday or the date of his marriage, if earlier. This is considered to be a strict interpretation of current law.

A less strict interpretation, and the interpretation used by MPERS to administer the plan, provides that a survivor’s benefit is payable if the member’s death occurs before the child’s 23rd birthday. This is administrative practice that MPERS has been using.

Proposed Law

SB 12 defines the terms “student” and “surviving child.” SB 12 also revises current plan language to conform to historical administrative practices. Given that current law is more restrictive than the proposed law, and given that the plan has been administered under a less strict interpretation, proposed law prohibits collecting overpayments based on the strict interpretation.

Implications of the Proposed Changes

The language of the law is clarified to agree with administrative practices with regard to benefits payable to children who are between the ages of 18 and 23 at the time of a member’s death.

If survivor benefit payments were made under current law to a surviving child who was between the ages of 18 and 23 at the time of the member’s death, which technically was an overpayment, proposed law prohibits collecting the overpayments.

2018 REGULAR SESSION
ACTUARIAL NOTE SB 12

In addition the definition of “surviving child” in the proposed law includes a child which a male member of the system has formally acknowledged. “Formally acknowledged” could be open to interpretation, and unless the male member is providing financial support to the child at the time of his death, could be expanding the availability of the death benefit.

I. Actuarial Analysis Section

A. Analysis of Actuarial Costs
(Prepared by the LLA)

This section of the actuarial note pertains to actuarial costs or savings associated with the retirement systems, with OPEB, and with other government entities.

1. Retirement Systems

There are two ways that this actuarial note can be written; (1) assuming the strict interpretation of current law is correct, and (2) assuming the current administrative practice is correct. If we insist on the strict interpretation, then there is an actuarial cost associated with SB 12. Our cost analysis is based on the following information provided to us by the system actuary relying on June 30, 2017 actuarial valuation results.

Age of Surviving Child at the Parent’s Death		Liability
a.	Under age 18	$ 3,606,750
b.	Over Age 18 but under Age 23	89,734
c.	Under Age 23	$ 3,696,484

The liability under the strictest interpretation of current law is $3,606,750 (item “a”) above. The liability under the current interpretation of current law (item “c” above) is $3,696,484. Therefore, SB 12 has an actuarial cost of $89,734.

The liability for all retired lives is $1,550,785,289. The increase in liability relative to SB 12 is at most $89,734 or an increase of 0.005786%.

Given the minimal cost and the interpretation of current law given by MPERS, we estimate the actuarial cost of SB 12 to be $0.

2. Other Post-Employment Benefits (OPEB)

The actuarial cost or savings of SB 12 associated with OPEB, including retiree health insurance premiums, is estimated to be $0. Our analysis is summarized below.

The liability for post-retirement medical insurance protection provided to retirees is not affected by a slight change in the preretirement death benefit.

3. Other Government Entities

The actuarial cost or savings of SB 12 associated with government entities other than those identified in SB 12, is estimated to be $0.

B. Actuarial Data, Methods and Assumptions
(Prepared by the LLA)

Unless indicated otherwise, the actuarial note for SB 12 was prepared using actuarial data, methods, and assumptions as disclosed in the most recent actuarial valuation report adopted by PRSAC. The data, methods and assumptions are being used to provide consistency with the actuary for the retirement system who may also be providing testimony to the Senate and House retirement committees.

C. Actuarial Caveat
(Prepared by the LLA)

There is nothing in SB 12 that will compromise the signing actuary’s ability to present an unbiased statement of actuarial opinion.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS SECTION

This section of the actuarial note pertains to fiscal costs or savings associated with the retirement systems (Table A), with OPEB (Table B), and with other fiscal costs or savings associated with government entities not associated with either the retirement systems or OPEB (Table C). Fiscal costs or savings in Table A include administrative costs associated with the retirement systems and the sponsoring government entities. The total effect of SB 12 on fiscal costs, fiscal savings, or cash flows is presented in Table D.
