EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law is not anticipated to create a material expenditure impact for any state entity or local governing body.

To estimate the potential impact of the provisions of proposed law, the LFO surveyed the Division of Administration, Louisiana Department of Health, Louisiana Department of Children and Family Services, the Louisiana Department of Public Safety and Corrections - Public Safety Services (DOC-PSS), the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, the Louisiana Municipal Association and the Louisiana Clerks of Court Association as representative large agencies or representatives organizations of public entities that possess access to large amounts of private citizen data. The general consensus among state and local agencies is that the provisions of proposed law are largely adhered to currently as a matter of practice, if not law. All respondents indicated that the provisions of proposed law can be accomplished with existing staff and budgetary resources. Responding agencies and representative organizations indicated that staff within the respective legal services offices will generally absorb the duties of ensuring relevant information is redacted from public records. The cost to add notice to the public that information submitted may become part of the public record is nominal, but could include revisions and reprinting of paper forms to include disclaimer language.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
