Gatti

Present law declares that the services provided by volunteer fire departments are vital for fire prevention and suppression to the safety of the citizens of the state. Present law requires the state fire marshal obtain workers' compensation coverage for volunteer members who participate in the normal functions of the fire company.

Proposed law retains present law but requires that, upon the purchase of a new policy or renewal of an existing policy, that any workers' compensation policy which provides coverage for a volunteer member of a fire company, pursuant to present law, will include coverage for posttraumatic stress injury.

Proposed law provides that the following definitions shall apply to any workers' compensation policy which provides coverage for a volunteer member of a fire company:

- (1) "Posttraumatic stress injury" means those injuries which are defined as "posttraumatic stress injury" by the most recently published edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders by the American Psychiatric Association caused by an event occurring in the course and scope of employment.
- (2) "Psychiatrist" shall have the same meaning as it is defined pursuant to present law.
- (3) "Psychologist" shall have the same meaning as it is defined pursuant to present law.
- (4) "Volunteer member" shall have the same meaning as it is defined pursuant to present law.
- (5) "Volunteer service" means that service performed by a volunteer member, for one or more fire companies, who is entitled to workers' compensation benefits pursuant to present law.

Proposed law provides that any volunteer member of a fire company who is diagnosed by a psychiatrist or psychologist with posttraumatic stress injury, either during his period of voluntary service or thereafter, shall be presumed, prima facie, to have a disease or infirmity connected with his volunteer service.

Proposed law provides that, once diagnosed with posttraumatic stress injury as provided for in proposed law, the volunteer member affected or his survivors shall be entitled to all rights and benefits as granted by present law to one suffering from an occupational disease is entitled as service connected in the line of duty, regardless of whether he is engaged in volunteer service at the time of diagnosis.

Proposed law provides that, except as provided in proposed law, any benefit payable to any local emergency medical services personnel, any employee of a local police department, or any local fire employee for temporary and permanent disability when the employee suffers an injury or disease arising out of and in the course and scope of their employment, shall include coverage for posttraumatic stress injury.

Proposed law defines "fire employee" as any person employed in the fire department of any municipality, parish, or fire protection district that maintains full-time regularly paid fire department employment, regardless of the specific duties of such person within the fire department. "Fire employee" also includes employees of nonprofit corporations under contract with a fire protection district or other political subdivision to provide fire protection services, including operators of the fire-alarm system when such operators are members of the regularly constituted fire department."

Proposed law provides that the following definitions shall apply to posttraumatic stress injury benefits payable to a local emergency medical services personnel, any employee of a local police department, or any local fire employee:
