EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in $40,500 in Local Funds expenditures in the Nineteenth Judicial District Court, to the extent that the court is required to conduct an audit of the Complex Litigation Section Fund for the period of time during which the pilot program is in effect. The Nineteenth Judicial District Court currently expends $40,500 to conduct an annual audit of the Nineteenth Judicial District Court Expense Fund. For any additional audits required of any new judicial expense funds in operation by the court, the Nineteenth Judicial District Court expects to expend an equivalent amount to conduct annual audits.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an increase of no less than $120,000 in revenues in FY 25 in the 19th Judicial District Court, associated with the receipt of additional filing fees for cases designated as complex litigation cases. Currently, there is no data collected by the 19th Judicial District Court to determine the number of cases that would potentially be impacted with the enactment of the proposed law, but there are over 600 cases involving litigation issues related to hurricanes that have been referred to the Complex Litigation Section. If additional filing fees were assessed for each of these cases referred to the pilot program, Local revenues of no less than $120,000 (600 x $200) would be generated in FY 25 for the 19th Judicial District Court Complex Litigation Fund.

Note: The 19th JDC advises that there are 15,000 civil case filings that it processes each year, and that there is presently no indicator for the Clerk of Court to identify the number of civil matters that would be referred to the Complex Litigation Section, as the proposed law requires a subject review of each matter.
