Proposed law requires the Board of Medical Examiners and the Board of Veterinary Medicine issue a conditional license pending normal licensure. EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law will likely result in an increase in expenditures, assumed to be SGR and Statutory Dedications, in FY 25 by various Boards and Commissions to develop new exams and integrate proposed law requirements into management software. Any such increase in expenditures is nuanced and situational. While some boards have reported no changes in costs as they already have their system setup to follow proposed law, others have reported an increase in costs to development exams and applications for applicants who qualify for licenses under proposed law. In addition, some boards report an increase in workload to research other state requirements and verify applicants have held the certification for one year, are in good standing, and do not have any pending actions or investigations. Based on conversations with various boards, the LFO assumes these costs can be absorbed in the board's operating budget.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an increase in revenues, assumed to be SGR and Statutory Dedications, to the extent proposed law leads to an increase in the number of applicants applying for a license and paying any associated fees. There is no way to predict the number of applicants who will apply for a license or certificate based on proposed law, therefore the total increase is unknown at this time.
