Provides for official journals for the state and political subdivisions and for publishing legal notices

Current law requires the state to select a newspaper as the "Official Journal of the State" and requires the paper be published in Baton Rouge, for at least six days per week, and have an audited paid daily circulation of not less than 10,000 for at least one year prior to the time the contract is awarded. Proposed law changes the restrictions by removing the requirement that the paper be published in Baton Rouge, only requires the paper to be published once per week, and removes the requirement to have an audited paid daily circulation. Proposed law requires the cost of publication to be included in the publication at no additional cost to the state agency or local government.

Proposed law also provides for various changes to the selection of the official journal for political subdivisions, parishes, municipalities, and school boards including: allowing for an expanded required publication period in certain circumstances; providing special cases for new deserts; and, adjusts the qualifications for local newspapers.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in cost savings for the state (depicted as SGF only for purposed of this fiscal note, but potentially impacting all means of finance) and local government expenditures. Proposed law adjusts various requirements for the selection of the Official Journal for both the state and local government units. If the various adjustments provided for in proposed law allow the state or local government units to select a newspaper that charges less than what they are currently using, then costs to the state or local governments will decrease accordingly. Any such cost savings is indeterminable at this time.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
