Provides for renewal of certain tax exemptions once granted. (1/1/14)

Current law provides certain provisions for the renewal of tax exemptions, which may include a reapplication procedure in which the entity is once again deemed eligible for the exemption through a vetting process.

Proposed law allows certain sales tax exemption certificates to be automatically renewed for up to three years if the applicant maintains eligibility and is current in required tax payment filings. The certificates include Direct Pay Numbers, Sale for Resale, and Purchases of Manufacturing Machinery and Equipment. The Department of Revenue will promulgate rules.

Effective January 1, 2014.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. Any initiation costs the Department may incur will be absorbed in the current budget.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

This bill allows those taxpayers requiring certificates of eligibility for direct pay numbers, sale for resale or manufacturing machinery and equipment to automatically renew the certificates for periods up to three years. Since the bill does not change the exemption in any manner, there is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure. The Department of Revenue considers this bill very similar to current practice.
