Establishes a registry for tax credits and provides relative to the period of time to report claims or a transfer to the registry

Proposed law requires state agencies administering transferable tax credits to send identifying information to the Department of Revenue to be entered into a centralized electronic tax registry database, the creation of which is mandated by this bill. Beginning January 1, 2014, both historical credits and any credit subsequently issued will have to be entered into the database with a unique identifier to allow for accurate tracking. Administering agencies must provide all necessary information concerning transferable credits, including for credits issued prior to January 1, 2014. Taxpayers must submit transfer information electronically as deemed necessary by the department. Credits not recorded in the registry will be ineffective. Agencies wishing to have access to the database must apply for departmental permission. Secretary of LDR will promulgate rules. Transfers of credits will have to be reported to LDR within 10 days instead of the 30 days required now. Transfer prices are no longer authorized to be posted on the Department of Revenue website.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

LDR indicates that about $350,000 will be needed to develop the system by January 1, 2014, which will consolidate and track information on transferable credits. LDR also indicates the necessity of 2 additional personnel (2 revenue tax specialists) to administer the registry on an ongoing basis. The registry will review credits upon receipt of the tax form. Currently, if credit review occurs, it occurs after the fact. The LFO has not been able to determine with certainty whether current credit review efforts/resources can be redirected to the administration of the registry. If they can, then additional costs appear to be primarily one-time costs associated with setting up a credit data tracking system and tying it into the Department's tax processing systems. If material resources have not been being expended on credit review, then the bill is effectively establishing a new program/activity within the Department, that will require one-time set up costs and ongoing administration.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Successful implementation of this program/activity of reviewing tax credits will allow for more accurate accounting of the utilization of credits and the outstanding balances associated with them. It seems likely that the predominate revenue impact of an effective program/activity would be to increase net revenue collections as a result of denying inappropriate utilization of tax credits.
