There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Present law provides for amounts of expungement fees that can be charged by the Louisiana Bureau of Criminal Identification and Information, sheriffs, and district attorneys, as well as administrative fees by the clerks of court. Proposed law makes these fees nonrefundable. The impact of the legislation is indeterminable since it is not known how much of these fees was refunded previously. However, the impact should be minimal since these fees were rarely refunded.
