Provides relative to filing of bond or other security in proceedings under the Private Works Act

Present law provides that if a statement of claim or privilege or a notice of pendency of action is filed, any interested party may deposit with the recorder of mortgages either a bond of a lawful surety company authorized to do business in the state, cash, certified funds or a federally insured certificate of deposit to guarantee payment of the obligation secured by the privilege. Proposed law retains present law but removes a federally insured certificate of deposit as an acceptable form of security to be filed in certain civil matters.
