WHEREAS, disability is a natural part of life and does not diminish the right of individuals with disabilities to exercise control over their lives and fully participate in the community; and

WHEREAS, children, regardless of the severity of their disability, need a nurturing home environment so each child is able to develop adult and family relationships to their fullest potential; and

WHEREAS, almost thirteen thousand people are waiting for individual and family support and services that will allow them to live independently in their own home or with their family rather than being segregated from their community in a facility to receive

1 support, and this number continues to increase annually; and

2 WHEREAS, LaCAN is a statewide grassroots network of individuals, families, and 3 other stakeholders advocating for individual and family support and services for Louisiana's 4 citizens who experience developmental disabilities; and

9 WHEREAS, this marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the federal Americans with
