2016 REGULAR SESSION
ACTUARIAL NOTE HB 53

Bill Information:

Current Law

Under current law, the Parochial Employees' Retirement System (PERS) may select a third party provider to invest and administer DROP accounts for participants who continue to be employed after exiting DROP. However, the PERS' board of trustees has never elected to engage a third party provider. All DROP accounts are credited with interest annually based on the investment return associated with J. P. Morgan's prime money market institutional shares. J. P. Morgan is PERS' custodial bank.

Proposed Law

HB 53 removes the authority of the PERS' board to engage a third party provider and codifies current administrative practices for granting interest credits on DROP accounts.

Implications of the Proposed Changes

HB 53 has no effect on plan benefits or plan costs. It merely codifies current practices. The Internal Revenue Service requested this change as a condition for the issuance of a favorable determination letter on the qualified status of the retirement system.

Cost Analysis:

Analysis of Actuarial Costs

HB 53 does not contain any benefit provisions having an actuarial cost.

Retirement Systems

There are no actuarial costs associated with HB 53.

Other Post-Employment Benefits

There are no actuarial costs associated with HB 53 for post-employment benefits other than pensions.

Analysis of Fiscal Costs

HB 53 has no effect on fiscal costs.

Actuarial Data, Methods and Assumptions

This actuarial note was prepared using actuarial data, methods, and assumptions as disclosed in the most recent actuarial valuation report adopted by PRSAC. These assumptions and methods are in compliance with actuarial standards of practice. This data, methods and assumptions are being used to provide consistency with the actuary for the retirement system who may also be providing testimony to the Senate and House retirement committees.

Actuarial Caveat

There is nothing in HB 53 that will compromise the signing actuary's ability to present an unbiased statement of actuarial opinion.

Actuarial Credentials:

Paul T. Richmond is the Manager of Actuarial Services for the Louisiana Legislative Auditor. He is an Enrolled Actuary, a member of the American Academy of Actuaries, a member of the Society of Actuaries and has met the Qualification Standards of the American Academy of Actuaries necessary to render the actuarial opinion contained herein.
