SB 57 Engrossed

2016 Regular Session

Bishop

Proposed law prohibits a unclassified employee in the executive branch of state government from receiving any pay increase for a period starting on the regularly scheduled gubernatorial primary election day and ending on inauguration day unless approved by the Jt. Legislative Committee on the Budget.

Proposed law provides that if the governor or other public official believes that the pay of a person to whom the prohibition is applicable should be increased, then requires the governor or other public official to submit documentation to Jt. Legislative Committee on the Budget (Committee) identifying the position, the name of the person, the qualifications of the person, and the reasons the governor or other public official believes the pay of the person should be increased. Requires that the Committee, upon receipt of the documentation, meet and consider approval of the pay increase.

Proposed law authorizes the State Civil Service Commission to adopt the same or a similar rule for classified employees barring some exceptions.

Proposed law does not apply to any position in a postsecondary or higher education system or institution.

Effective upon signature of the governor or lapse of time for gubernatorial action.
