

2016 Regular Session

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 129

BY REPRESENTATIVE ZERINGUE

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

To urge and request the Louisiana State Law Institute to study the issue of preferences in favor of Louisiana contractors for contracts related to integrated coastal protection projects and to report the findings, in writing, to the Senate and House committees on transportation, highways and public works and the member of the House of Representatives representing House District Number 52.

WHEREAS, the Louisiana State Law Institute is partially purposed to conduct special research for the Legislature and its individual members, at their request, on matters of legislative interest; and

WHEREAS, generally, Louisiana's resident preference statutes, R.S. 39:1604.2, and R.S. 38:2225, require preference be given to a contractor domiciled in the state of Louisiana over a contractor domiciled in a state that provides for a preference, percentage or otherwise, in favor of its state's contractors over Louisiana contractors for the same type of work; and

WHEREAS, R.S. 49:214.2 defines integrated coastal protection as plans, projects, policies, and programs intended to provide hurricane protection or coastal conservation or restoration, and shall include but not be limited to coastal restoration; coastal protection; infrastructure; storm damage reduction; flood control; water resources development; erosion control measures; marsh management; diversions; saltwater intrusion prevention; wetlands and central wetlands conservation, enhancement, and restoration; barrier island and shoreline stabilization and preservation; coastal passes stabilization and restoration; mitigation; storm surge reduction; or beneficial use projects; and

WHEREAS, Louisiana is leading the country for efforts in coastal restoration and technology and advancement and also in terms of the economy and ability to create jobs and salaries; and

WHEREAS, nonresident contractors have completed work in the state of Louisiana which resulted in expenditures, cost overruns, and change orders due to a lack of familiarity with Louisiana's habitat and environment; and

WHEREAS, the state of Louisiana invests over five hundred million dollars per year in coastal restoration and protection of the Louisiana coast and as such, the state should be receiving the maximum benefit for its investment; and

WHEREAS, resident contractors who possess indigenous environmental knowledge which could yield cost savings to the state should be afforded an increased opportunity to have a share in the investment and take advantage of the opportunity presented to the state.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of Louisiana does hereby urge and request the Louisiana State Law Institute to study the issue of preference given to Louisiana contractors on contracts for integrated coastal protection projects.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, in studying the issue of preference in certain integrated coastal protection projects, the Louisiana State Law Institute shall consider and determine the following:

(1) Whether, in letting contracts for public work for integrated coastal protection projects by any public entity, except contracts financed in whole or in part by contributions or loans from any agency of the United States government, preference shall be given to Louisiana resident contractors over nonresident contractors?

(2) Whether, when competitive bidding is not required, a contract for integrated coastal protection projects shall be awarded to a Louisiana resident contractor, if there is one available with the expertise required for the specific job?

(3) Whether, when competitive bidding is required by law, a contract for integrated coastal protection projects shall be awarded to the Louisiana resident contractor making the lowest responsible bid, if the bid is not more than ten percent higher than the lowest responsible nonresident bid and the resident contractor agrees to revise his bid to be no more than the lowest responsible nonresident bid?

(4) What effect a strict preference law will have on resident contractors working outside of the state of Louisiana?

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Louisiana State Law Institute shall complete a study, which shall also consider any advantages or disadvantages of granting a preference to Louisiana resident contractors on contracts for integrated coastal protection projects, and address the competitive bidding process on contracts for integrated coastal protection projects.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Louisiana State Law Institute shall complete a written report addressing the issues with granting a preference to Louisiana contractors on contracts for integrated coastal protection projects considering competitive bidding.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Louisiana State Law Institute shall submit the report to the Senate and House committees on transportation, highways and public works and to the member of the House of Representatives representing House District Number 52 on or before February 1, 2017.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the president of the Louisiana State Law Institute.
