

RÉSUMÉ DIGEST

HR 97

2016 Regular Session

Jay Morris

Existing House Rules (House Rules 9.8 and 9.9) provide that the motion to lay on the table shall be decided without debate and provide that a matter once laid on the table shall be called from the table only upon the favorable vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting. Existing House Rules (House Rules 9.4 and 9.5) further provide that no more than one substitute motion shall be in order at any one time and that motions having a higher precedence shall be in order and motions having a lower precedence shall not be in order.

New House Rule further provides that the motion to lay on the table shall be in order in accordance with existing House Rules (Ch. 9 regarding motions) on any matter or motion in the possession of the House regardless of the house of origin.

Effective June 1, 2016.

(Amends House Rule 9.8)
