Present law (Ch.C. Art. 116) provides definitions for purposes of the Children's Code.

Proposed law retains present law and amends the definition of "shelter care facility" to include a licensed, physically unrestricting public or private child care facility, a residential facility operated for runaway, homeless, or a sexually exploited child, or a safe house as defined by present law which provides temporary care for children.

Present law (Ch.C. Art. 606) provides the grounds for which a child is alleged to be a child in need of care, including a child who is a victim of commercial sexual exploitation, human trafficking, or trafficking of children for sexual purposes perpetrated by any person regardless of their relationship to the child.

Proposed law retains present law and adds present law citations for references to the crime human trafficking (R.S. 14:46.2) or trafficking of children for sexual purposes (R.S. 14:46.3).

Present law (Ch.C. Art. 622(B)) provides for the placement of a child who appears to be a child in need of care and whose immediate removal is necessary for his protection from further abuse or neglect pending a custody hearing.

Proposed law retains present law and adds a shelter care facility to the list of places the child may be held pending a custody hearing if the child, who is not in the custody of the Department of Children and Family Services, is a victim of human trafficking or trafficking of children for sexual purposes as those crimes are defined by present law.

Present law (Ch.C. Art. 725 et seq.) provides relative to safe harbor for sexually exploited children and requires the office of juvenile justice of the Dept. of Public Safety and Corrections to operate or contract with an appropriate nongovernmental agency for the operation of a safe house. Further requires the department to develop a statewide protocol for helping to coordinate the delivery of services to sexually exploited children.

Proposed law changes the department that is required to carry out the present and proposed law duties from the Dept. of Public Safety and Corrections, office of juvenile justice to the Dept. of Children and Family Services:

Proposed law requires the Dept. of Children and Family Services to identify and maintain a current listing of safe houses which are licensed residential homes that specialize in the provision of services to sexually exploited children, regardless of whether the facilities receive taxpayer funding. This listing shall be made available to courts, prosecutors, and other stakeholders involved in proceedings pertaining to an exploited child.

Proposed law (Ch.C. Art. 725.4) requires law enforcement to notify the Crime Victims Services Bureau of the Dept. of Public Safety and Corrections when a child is eligible for special services and, as a mandatory reporter as defined by present law (Ch.C. Art. 603(17)(e)), to report to the Dept. of Children and Family Services that the child is a need of protective services as they are required to do pursuant to present law.

Proposed law (Ch.C. Art. 725.5) provides that the Dept. of Children and Family Services is responsible for investigating reports of abuse or neglect where the abuser is believed to be a parent or caretaker, a person who maintains an interpersonal dating or engagement relationship with the parent or caretaker, or a person living in the same residence with the parent or caretaker as a spouse whether married or not. Further provides that the department must fully cooperate with law enforcement, prosecutors, and court staff in the investigation and prosecution of child sexual exploitation, including ensuring that all state, federal, and community-based resources for sexually exploited children are known and available to the child.

Proposed law (Ch.C. Art. 725.6) requires all reports and records of exploitation to be kept confidential unless the disclosure of such information is essential for the purposes of investigation or prosecution, required by court order, or necessary to ensure services.

Present law provides a child housed in a residential home may stay for a period not to exceed six months beyond his eighteenth birthday to complete any educational course begun at the facility including a General Education Development (GED) course. Further provides that a child housed in residential home that does not receive federal Title IV-E funding may remain at the home until completion of his twenty-first birthday to complete any education course begun at the facility including a GED course.

Proposed law removes these limitations and authorizes a child housed at a residential facility to remain at the facility until their twenty-first birthday to complete any education course begun at the facility including a GED course.

Proposed law directs the La. State Law Institute to prepare comments to the provisions of proposed law.

Effective on August 1, 2017.

(Amends R.S. 46:1403.1, Ch.C. Arts. 116(25), 606(A)(intro. para.) and (7), 622(B)(intro. para.), and 725.1-725.3; Adds Ch.C. Arts. 622(B)(5) and 725.4-725.6)
