Provides that the last day of the period is to be included, unless it is a legal holiday, in which event the period runs until the end of the next day which is not a legal holiday

Present law provides that a half-holiday is considered a legal holiday. Provides that a legal holiday is to be included in the computation of a period of time allowed or prescribed, except when:

- (1) It is expressly excluded.

- (3) The period is less than seven days.

Proposed law retains present law. Additionally provides that a legal holiday shall be excluded in the computation of a period of time allowed or prescribed to seek rehearing, reconsideration, or judicial review or appeal of a decision or order by an agency in the executive branch of state government.
