Bill Information

Current Law

Current law requires each state or statewide retirement system with an investment strategy that includes an allocation to international markets to allocate a portion of its international investments to a terror-free index fund.

Proposed Law

HB 34 retains the requirement that a portion of the allocation to international markets include terror-free investments, but allows this requirement to be met with separately managed accounts and international funds, rather than requiring that the investment be in an international index fund.

Implications of the Proposed Changes

HB 34 expands the alternatives available to meet the terror-free-investment requirement, so it should be easier to comply with the law.
