EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

Based on discussions with Legislative Legal Staff, State Bond Commission Staff, an official with the Secretary of State's Office, an official with the Attorney General's (AG) Office, a local government official, and two bond attorneys, it appears that this bill will not have a direct material impact on governmental expenditures or revenues.

Generally, the bill is consolidating provisions that are spread throughout current law in to a more uniform and streamlined set of statutes. Also, the bill provides that bonds do not have to be filed with the Secretary of State's Office; however, an official with this Office indicated that this provision would not affect expenditures or revenues. Finally, while the bill reduces the AG's required review of attorney's fees related to employment of counsel for bond issuance, the AG's Office indicated that there will be no effect on expenditures or revenues.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
