EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. This measure requires DCFS to release information involving open or completed investigations of child abuse and neglect to other states' child welfare agencies and to courts or district attorney's offices upon written request. This is existing practice of the department; therefore there is no fiscal impact.

NOTE: Act 348 of 2017 creates a State Central Registry (SCR) of reports of child abuse and neglect, which will be implemented on July 1, 2018. The Act provides that an individual listed in the SCR has the right to appeal a validated case of abuse or neglect before information related to the case can be released. This proposed measure changes Act 348 and provides that information from an open investigation can be released to other states' child welfare agencies and to courts or district attorney's offices prior to an appeal. Providing information on open investigations to other states' child welfare agencies and to courts or district attorney's offices is current practice of the department. This measure will allow this current practice to remain after the implementation of Act 348.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
