

RÉSUMÉ DIGEST

ACT 77 (HB 287)

2018 Regular Session

Edmonds

Existing law prohibits intentionally performing or attempting to perform an abortion of an unborn child of less than 20 weeks post-fertilization age without first providing the pregnant woman with an informational document including resources, programs, and services for pregnant women who have a diagnosis of fetal genetic abnormality and resources, programs, and services for infants and children born with disabilities.

New law retains existing law.

New law stipulates that no person shall be found in violation of existing law, and no penalty for a violation of existing law shall be assessed, in any instance in which the required informational document is not available for use.

Effective upon signature of governor (May 10, 2018).
