

2019 Regular Session

SENATE BILL NO. 115

BY SENATOR WARD

Prefiled pursuant to Article III, Section 2(A)(4)(b)(i) of the Constitution of Louisiana.

MINERALS. Provides relative to exercise of rights and conducting of operations arising from co-ownership of land and mineral rights. (8/1/19)

1 AN ACT

2 To amend and reenact R.S. 31:164, 166, and 175, relative to mineral rights and operations;
3 to provide relative to co-ownership; to provide relative to the rights and 4 consequences arising from co-ownership of land and mineral rights; to provide 5 relative to the creation of servitudes and leases; to provide relative to the exercise of 6 rights and the conducting of operations; to provide certain terms, conditions, consent
7 requirements, procedures, and effects; and to provide for related matters.

8 Be it enacted by the Legislature of Louisiana:

9 Section 1. R.S. 31:164, 166, and 175 are hereby amended and reenacted to read as 10 follows:

11 §164. Creation of mineral servitude by co-owner of land

12 A co-owner of land may create a mineral servitude out of his undivided
13 interest in the land, and prescription commences from the date of its creation. One
14 who acquires a mineral servitude from a co-owner of land may not exercise his right 15 without the consent of co-owners owning at least an undivided ~~eighty~~ seventy-five 16 percent interest in the land, provided that he has made every effort to contact such 17 co-owners and, if contacted, has offered to contract with them on substantially the

1 same basis that he has contracted with another co-owner. A co-owner of the land
2 who does not consent to the exercise of such rights has no liability for the costs of 3 development and operations, except out of his share of production.

4 * * *

5 §166. Granting of mineral lease by co-owner of land

6 A co-owner of land may grant a valid mineral lease or a valid lease or permit
7 for geological surveys, by means of a torsion balance, seismographic explosions,
8 mechanical device, or any other method as to his undivided interest in the land but 9 the lessee or permittee may not exercise his rights thereunder without consent of 10 co-owners owning at least an undivided ~~eighty~~ seventy-five percent interest in the 11 land, provided that he has made every effort to contact such co-owners and, if 12 contacted, has offered to contract with them on substantially the same basis that he 13 has contracted with another co-owner. A co-owner of the land who does not consent 14 to the exercise of such rights has no liability for the costs of development and 15 operations or other costs, except out of his share of production.

16 * * *

17 §175. Co-owner of mineral servitude may not operate independently

18 A co-owner of a mineral servitude may not conduct operations on the 19 property subject to the servitude without the consent of co-owners owning at least 20 an undivided ~~eighty~~ seventy-five percent interest in the servitude, provided that he 21 has made every effort to contact such co-owners and, if contacted, has offered to 22 contract with them on substantially the same basis that he has contracted with 23 another co-owner. Operations as used in this Section shall include geological 24 surveys, by means of a torsion balance, seismographic explosions, mechanical 25 device, or any other method. A co-owner of the servitude who does not consent to 26 such operations has no liability for the costs of development and operations except 27 out of his share of production.

The original instrument and the following digest, which constitutes no part of the legislative instrument, were prepared by Jerry G. Jones.

DIGEST

SB 115 Engrossed

2019 Regular Session

Ward

Present law relative to the Louisiana Mineral Code provides for rights, consequences, and operations arising from co-ownership of land and mineral rights.

Present law provides that one who acquires a mineral servitude from a co-owner of land may not exercise his right without the consent of co-owners owning at least an undivided 80% interest in the land. Proposed law changes 80% to 75%.

Present law provides that a co-owner of land may grant a valid mineral lease or a valid lease or permit for geological surveys as to his undivided interest in the land, but the lessee or permittee may not exercise his rights without consent of co-owners owning at least an undivided 80% interest in the land. Proposed law changes 80% to 75%.

Present law provides that a co-owner of a mineral servitude may not conduct operations on the property subject to the servitude without the consent of co-owners owning at least an undivided 80% interest in the servitude. Proposed law changes 80% to 75%.

Effective August 1, 2019.

(Amends R.S. 31:164, 166, and 175)