Present law (R.S. 44:31.2) requires the attorney general to establish a program for educating the general public, public bodies, and custodians regarding the provisions of present law (the Public Records Law). Provides that the program may include brochures, pamphlets, videos, seminars, and Internet access to information which provides training on the provisions of present law, including the custodian's responsibilities in connection with a request for records and the right of a person to institute court proceedings if access to a record is denied by the custodian.

Proposed law retains present law. Additionally provides that the possibility that information submitted to a public body may become public record may be included in the public records awareness program.

Proposed law requires each custodian to use reasonable means to notify the public that information submitted to the public body may become public record pursuant to the provisions of present law.
