Abstract: Requires the inclusion of a preamble in a notice of intent to adopt, amend, or repeal administrative rules.

Present law provides procedures for the adoption, amendment, and repeal of rules by executive branch agencies and for public participation and legislative oversight regarding such rule changes. Requires an agency, prior to taking action on a rule, to give notice of its intended action at least 90 days prior to taking the action. Requires that the notice of intent include a statement or description of rule's substance, statements of the fiscal and economic impact, and other specific items.

Present law requires that the notice of intent include a statement indicating whether the agency prepared a preamble and provide information concerning how the preamble may be obtained. Provides that a preamble explains the basis and rationale for the intended action and summarizes the information and data supporting the intended action.

Proposed law requires that the notice of intent include the preamble, if the proposed rule has one, rather than indicating whether one was prepared and how it may be obtained.

(Amends R.S. 49:953(1)(a)(vii))
