Existing law further provides that all initial training requirements must be completed within the first calendar year after receiving P.O.S.T. certification and annually thereafter.

New law provides that under certain circumstances, the council may modify, extend, or waive an in-service training requirement on a case-by-case basis and that such request must be in writing from the agency head directly to the council.

New law provides that waivers may also be considered for extended continuous medical leave or any other emergency event deemed as such by the council.

New law further provides that peace officers called to active military duty are not required to complete in-service training requirements missed during the performance of active duty service.
