EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

As proposed law creates a new credit, LDR anticipates approximately $65,000 of IT staff time development costs for the implementation of the credit.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law creates a refundable income tax credit for the amount of annual license or permit fees paid by owners of restaurants and bars attributable to any month during which the holder's operations were temporarily closed pursuant to Proclamation Number 30 JBE 2020, or any subsequent proclamation declaring a statewide Covid-19 public health emergency.

The ATC budget request for FY21 indicates fee revenue associated with the permits targeted by the bill in the range of $4.1 million to $4.7 million. ATC also provided a sum of affected fees of $4.1 million during FY20. Proclamation Number 30 JBE 2020 closed the affected businesses for roughly a month (March 17, 2020 - April 12, 2020). Subsequent proclamations continued restrictions on the opening and capacity allowed of various businesses under various circumstances; and the effective closure of some affected businesses may be longer than the proclamation periods. Roughly 1/12 of the approximately $4 million in license/permit fees targeted by the bill may reflect the minimum state fiscal exposure of $333,000 of this credit. In addition, affected establishments pay a variety of different fees depending on the combination of food and drink service they provide. Since the bill grants a refundable tax credit, the state's exposure is not limited to business tax liabilities, making it likely that a majority of the exposure will be realized against state tax receipts. Recognition of the likely greater actual exposure may be achieved by assuming some multiple of the monthly approximation, incorporating relatively shorter closures for some affected businesses and relatively longer closures for other affected businesses. With no information as to the actual applicability of this credit across affected businesses, the fiscal note assumes roughly one-half of the total amount of license fees associated with these establishments will be foregone through this credit, or $2 million. Much of this credit would likely be claimed on tax year 2020 returns filed in the spring of 2021, affecting FY21 receipts, but some may show up on extensions and amended returns for the year filed in later periods.
