 Provides relative to the compensation of intercollegiate athletes for the use of their name, image, or likeness. (7/1/21)

Proposed legislation allows students participating in intercollegiate athletics to earn compensation as a result of the use of the student's name, image, or likeness, and provides that such compensation must be commensurate with market value. Prohibits any compensation in exchange for athletic performance or attendance. Provides that any compensation shall be provided by a third party unaffiliated with the post-secondary education institution in which the athlete is enrolled. Prohibits a post-secondary institution from preventing or restricting an intercollegiate athlete from earning compensation for the use of his or her name, image, or likeness; such compensation shall not affect the athlete's grant-in-aid or athletic eligibility. Provides for legal representation of student athletes. Requires post-secondary institutions to conduct a financial literacy and life skills workshop for a minimum of five hours at the outset of an athlete's first and third academic years.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There will be increased expenditures for increased workload to ensure compliance and to provide the required financial literacy and life skills workshops, however this will vary by institution. Institutions anticipate that increased expenditures will be funded using athletics self-generated revenues.

There will be increased expenditures for certain institutions associated with staffing needs to ensure compliance with the provisions of the law. For illustrative purposes, the LSU A&M athletics program anticipates a workload increase that will require additional staff beginning in FY 22 as follows: $225,000 for three coordinator positions at $75,000 each ($51,635 salary plus 45% related benefits of $23,365); $50,000 for operating expenses for travel, acquisitions, software, and other costs associated with the financial literacy workshop; and $75,000 for professional services to hire a consulting firm for guidance on issues and execution of the name, image, and likeness program. Other institutions have indicated that they do not anticipate a significant impact because their intercollegiate sports programs are not at a level where their athletes are sought for promotional purposes, or that they anticipate any potential workload adjustments can be absorbed with their current staff.

There will be increased expenditures for institutions to provide annual financial literacy workshops. Institution estimates range from $10,000 to $115,000, based on the anticipated staffing needs, educational materials, software, and workshop speakers. Other institutions that already provide a financial literacy program for student athletes may need to incorporate additional material to comply with the proposed legislation.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
