Sub. Bill For.:

Date: April 12, 2021	7:26 PM	Author: ALLAIN
Dept./Agy.: Revenue		Analyst: Greg Albrecht
Subject: Income Tax Exemption For Certain Mobile Workers

TAX EXEMPTIONS OR SEE FISC NOTE GF RV Page 1 of 1
Exempts certain mobile workers from individual income tax and their employers from withholding tax. (gov sig)

Current law subjects nonresident employees to state income tax on the income earned or derived from activity in the state, and requires their employers to deduct and remit withholdings of this tax liability.

Proposed law exempts nonresident employees from a state income tax liability if they perform employment duties in the state for 30 or fewer days, and exempts their employers from the withholding requirement for those same employees. If the employee works in-state for more than 30 days in a year, they are subject to state taxation on all days of earnings in the state, including the first 30 days.

Proposed law does not provide this exemption to professional athletes, staff members of professional athletic teams, professional entertainers, public figures, or qualified motion picture production employees.

Effective upon governor's signature.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

The bill relieves from state individual income tax liability nonresident employees that earn income in the state for 30 or fewer days a year, as well as the liability of their employers to withhold and remit tax payments. While this can only work to reduce tax liabilities to the state, the bill appears to target nonresident employees less likely to be filing annual income tax returns with payments to the state (as well as withholding payments). Short duration nonresident employees that are likely to be filing tax returns with the state (as well as withholding payments) are not provided the bill's exemption (professional athletes, staff members of professional athletic teams, professional entertainers, public figures, or qualified motion picture production employees). These types of employees have worked under long-standing routines of having their income earned in various states and be allocated to the states' where earned. Thus, the bill seems likely to have only a minor effect on annual collections.
