EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may have an indeterminable but minimal impact on expenditures in the LA Department of Insurance (LDI). The proposed law creates the Insurance Regulatory Sandbox Act that allows the Commissioner of Insurance to grant limited access to the insurance market in the state to test an innovative insurance product or service without obtaining a license. The proposed law requires the department to develop the sandbox application form and submit a $4,500 application fee. The Legislative Fiscal Office cannot determine the number of sandbox applications the department may receive or the number of approvals the commissioner may grant under this measure. LDI reports any workload associated with the newly proposed Sandbox Act, as well as IT cost to develop a new set of website pages, will be handled with existing staff and resources. To the extent a significant number of sandbox applications are received, LDI may require additional resources presumed to be SGR from application fees, as well as personnel to accommodate the increased workload.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law will result in an indeterminable increase in self-generated revenues in the LA Department of Insurance (LDI). The proposed law authorizes the LDI to assess an application fee of $4,500 for each innovative insurance product or service seeking approval under the Insurance Regulatory Sandbox Act. Because the Legislative Fiscal Office cannot determine the number of sandbox applications the department may receive or the number of approvals the commissioner was grant under this measure, revenue derived from this source is indeterminable.
