EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Extending postpartum coverage for women who would otherwise been removed after the 60-day postpartum period will significantly increase Medicaid expenditures. Implementation is subject to CMS approval. The fiscal note assumes up front costs in FY 22 for technology system changes, as well as extending the postpartum coverage beginning April 1, 2022, (to coincide with a start date aligning with the American Rescue Plan Act). Out years reflect annualized impact of extending coverage for full Medicaid benefits from 60 days to 12 months.

The following assumptions were used in preparing this fiscal note:

- 1. Utilized FY 2018 data.
- 2. Included women that lost coverage after the 60-day postpartum period and did not qualify for other Medicaid coverage.
- Cost based on approximately 56,328 additional months of coverage in FY 22, 70,381 in FY 23, and 71,000 in out years.
 FY 22 per member per month (PMPM) payments for these women range from $261.77 to $1,484 based on their eligibility
- group (with the majority, or 89%, falling under the lower PMPM of $261.77)
- 5. Admin. costs for IT system changes to recognize eligibility to 12 months (2,500 hours @ $130 hr, or $325,000 in FY 22).

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Statutory Dedication revenues reflected in the revenue table above are generated from the 5.5% premium tax on health premiums.
