Provides relative to emergency preparedness among licensed nursing homes

Proposed law amends laws relating to emergency preparedness for state-licensed nursing homes. Proposed law creates the Nursing Home Emergency Preparedness Review Committee, and provides for purposes, duties, and composition of the committee. Proposed law requires each nursing home to utilize its emergency preparedness plan that was in effect on March 1, 2022 until an updated plan is developed. Proposed law requires each nursing home to develop an emergency preparedness plan that meets certain requirements. The plan should identify a primary evacuation site, proof of transportation to the site (contract), and staffing patterns for evacuation. The nursing facilities shall submit a copy of the plan to the local office of emergency preparedness and local office of evacuation site. Proposed law requires the local offices of emergency preparedness that receives an evacuation plan to review the plan and report any concerns or recommendations to the nursing home. All communication shall be electronic if available. Each nursing home shall update and revise its emergency preparedness plan to address and incorporate all recommendations that it receives from the local offices of emergency preparedness. Proposed law provides that each nursing home shall submit a full emergency evacuation plan to the Louisiana Department of Health in electronic format. The plan to the department shall include certain documents. Continued on page 2

Proposed law requires LDH to review each nursing home emergency evacuation plan, and make recommendations as necessary. Proposed law requires LDH to review each nursing home emergency evacuation plan, and make recommendations as necessary, and for the nursing homes to incorporate changes if recommended.

Proposed law requires each nursing home to review their emergency plans annually, and incorporate any state or federal licensing or regulation changes that may affect the plan. Proposed law further provides for requirements of the nursing homes if any changes, modifications, or amendments to the plan are necessary.

Proposed law provides the department to publish rules pertaining to emergency preparedness, after considering any recommendations by the Nursing Home Emergency Preparedness Review Committee. The department rules will have minimum requirements related to the content of the plans, the department review process, and evacuation site details.

Proposed law requires local offices of emergency preparedness to inspect evacuation sites annually. In addition, the office of the state fire marshal shall inspect each sheltering site identified in the nursing home emergency plans. LDH may inspect and survey each site identified in the plan.
