EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There will be increased costs for the Department of Education (LDE) to the extent it contracts with a vendor to develop a sudden cardiac arrest education program; however, there will not be increased state costs if the state utilizes existing, freely available training courses. There may be increased local costs for school boards if these boards pay staff for the time spent taking these courses; however, this is indeterminable.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
