Provides relative to the assessment of taxes by the Department of Revenue. (8/1/23)

Present law requires the secretary of the Louisiana Department of Revenue (LDR) to send a notice by certified mail to a taxpayer against whom an assessment is imposed at the address given in the last report filed by the taxpayer, or, if no report has been timely filed, to any address obtainable from any private or government entity. Present law provides for the self-assessment of taxes and requires the secretary to send a notice demanding payment within thirty calendar days from the date of the notice if the taxpayer fails to accompany his return filed with a proper payment. Present law provides that a taxpayer has the right to pay an assessment under protest or to claim a refund of an assessment after payment.

Proposed law requires the Secretary of LDR to send a notice by First-Class Mail International with Electronic USPS Delivery Confirmation if the notice is to be mailed to an address outside the U.S. Proposed law specifies a taxpayer has the right to pay an assessment under protest within thirty calendar days from the date of the notice and otherwise retains present law.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. The Louisiana Department of Revenue (LDR) has already started implementing changes to mail international letters via the First-Class Mail International with Electronic USPS Delivery Confirmation.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.

Current law allows taxpayers who dispute self-assessed taxes to pay the amount reported under protest or to pay the amount due and claim a refund. A claim for refund for must be filed within three years of December 31st of the year the tax became due or one year from payment, whichever is later. However, there is no time restriction imposed on payment under protest of a self-assessed tax.

Proposed law limits the period during which taxpayers may pay a self-assessed tax under protest to 30 calendar days from the date of the notice.
