EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. The proposed law provides that roadshow meetings must be held throughout the state prior to the consideration of any statewide redistricting plan. Both the House and Senate already conduct roadshow hearings, so this bill is not anticipated to add any additional cost.

Note: The Senate indicates that historically they have not been charged a fee to use the facilities where the meetings were held. To the extent that they are charged a fee in the future, there will be some costs associated with using those facilities.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
