DOMESTIC ABUSE: Provides relative to protective orders.

DIGEST

Present law provides that the clerk of the issuing court may transmit the Uniform Abuse Prevention Order to the judicial administrator's office, La. Supreme Court, for entry into the La. Protective Order Registry by facsimile transmission or direct electronic input as expeditiously as possible, no later than the end of the next business day after the order is filed with the clerk of court.

Proposed law changes present law by providing that the clerk may transmit the order to the judicial administrator's office no later than the end of the next calendar day, but no later than the next business day after the order is filed with the clerk of court.

Present law provides that the clerk of the issuing court will immediately send a copy of the order or any modification thereof to the La. Protective Order Registry and to the chief law enforcement officer of the parish in which the person or persons protected by the order reside as expeditiously as possible, but no later than the next business day after the order is filed with the clerk of court.

Proposed law changes present law by providing that the clerk may send a copy of the order no later than the next calendar day after the order is filed with the clerk of court, but no later than the next business day.

Proposed law provides that the judicial administrator's office must develop policies and procedures that provide for immediate entry of protection orders received by the office to include those received the next calendar day. Proposed law further provides that, to avoid delays in entry, the office has the authority to authorize agencies to enter protection orders directly into the registry when certain conditions or criteria exist.

(Amends R.S. 46:2136(H) and 2136.2(D); adds R.S. 46:2136.2(G))
