Present law authorizes a prelicensing training course for any person 18 or older if the driver education course is not completed.

Proposed law requires a "prelicensing training course" be administered by a Class "D" and "E" driver education provider licensed and contracted under present law when a person does not complete a drivers education course.

Present law requires a prelicensing training course consist of a minimum of six hours classroom instruction and a minimum of eight hours of actual driving instruction.

Proposed law allows for the administration of the skills test by a third-party examiner as part of the prelicensing training course.

Present law requires every person licensed or contracted under present law to operate a private driving instructor training school or agency, or providing driving courses to also become licensed or contracted as third-party testers.

Proposed law removes the requirement that licensed and contracted driving instructor training schools or agencies also become licensed as third-party testers.

Proposed law designates a "third-party examiner" as a properly licensed and contracted administrator of the knowledge and on-road driving skills tests to administer under present law the knowledge and on-road driving skills test required for a Class "D" or "E" license.

Proposed law allows for a web-based application by which a parent or legal guardian can provide electronic signatures for any credential authorized in present law in connection with a minor's application which allows for operation of a motor vehicle. Specifies that the electronic signature does not apply to a first or initial issuance of a license or permit, which must be an in-person transaction.

Present law requires that, after June 29, 2012, every person licensed pursuant to present law administer both the knowledge and on-road driving skills test required for issuance of Class "D" or "E" licenses.
