PUBLIC CONTRACTS EG SEE FISC NOTE EX See Note Page 1 of 1

Requires a political subdivision or agency negotiate a fair and reasonable contract with the most highly qualified firm for architectural and engineering professional services

Current law provides for the state, its political subdivisions, and agencies to select architectural and engineering professional services on the basis of competence and qualifications for a fair and reasonable price. Proposed legislation would require a political subdivision or agency to negotiate for a fair and reasonable price with the most highly qualified firm chosen by the selection board. If the political subdivision or agency is unable to reach an agreement with that firm, they shall formally terminate negotiations and begin to negotiate with the next highest qualified firm. This process is repeated until a satisfactory contract is negotiated.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

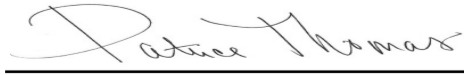

There is the potential for unknown savings to the state, its political subdivisions, and agencies across various means of finance as a result of the proposed measure. To the extent the contract chosen by the selection board is not able to be satisfactorily negotiated on the basis of price and the provisions of the proposed law are utilized, it would be possible for state agencies and political subdivisions to realize savings should the subsequent negotiation(s) yield a less costly contract. Conversely, the time and effort required to commence a project by state agencies and political subdivisions could be impacted to the extent that the selection process and the subsequent negotiation process substantially prolongs the time for a project to begin.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
