EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in Local Funds expenditures for local governing authorities if a person is convicted of unlawful entry or unlawful reentry into the state by an alien. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation to local governing authorities is indeterminable, since it is not known how many people will be convicted and incarcerated in local facilities, nor the length of the sentences assessed with those convictions as a result of its potential enactment. The maximum imprisonment term at the local level is no more than six months for the first offense (a misdemeanor), and no more than two years for a second or subsequent offense, with or without hard labor. Proposed law (on second or subsequent conviction) is a relative felony, and any impact on either local or state expenditures is contingent on whether offenders sustain either misdemeanor or felony-grade convictions for its violation.

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in SGF expenditures in the Department of Public Safety and Corrections – Corrections Services (DPS&C – CS), if a person receives a second or subsequent felony conviction for illegal entry into the state by an alien. DPS&C-CS advises that impacts on offender populations are anticipated to impact the number of offenders held in local facilities, and that in managing its offender population, it seeks to fill all beds in state facilities first, then assigns overflow offenders to local facilities. For those convicted, sentenced, and then subsequently housed in a local facility, DPS&C-CS will sustain expenditures of $26.39 per offender per day. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation is indeterminable, because it is not known how many people will be convicted and subject to a sentence of imprisonment as a result of its potential enactment.

To the extent that offenders sustain a first or subsequent misdemeanor conviction for violation of the proposed law, local governing authorities may sustain an increase in Local Funds expenditures. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation to local governing authorities is indeterminable, since it is not known how many people will be convicted and incarcerated in local facilities, nor the length of the sentences assessed with those convictions as a result of its potential enactment. The maximum imprisonment term is no more than two years at the local level.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in local revenues as a result of convictions of unlawful entry or reentry into the state by an alien. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation on local revenue is indeterminable because the fines that would be imposed on those convicted are optional, and the amount of the fines, if imposed, may vary. The potential revenue will accrue to the local governing authority.

Department of Justice

The Department of Justice (Attorney General) advises that the proposed law does not directly involve the Attorney General, and that any indirect impact on its operations can be managed using current resources. To the extent that the proposed law raises any constitutional issues, the Attorney General may incur expenditures related to its defense.

The proposed legislation also contemplates the attorney general negotiating and assisting the governor and the governor of the state of Texas with finalizing an Interstate Compact for Border Security. To the extent that workload increases in the Office of the Attorney General in negotiating and assisting the Louisiana and Texas governors with finalizing an Interstate Compact for Border Security, the LFO presumes that it can be absorbed using existing staff and resources.

The proposed legislation contemplates the appropriation of necessary funds to fulfill certain security priorities (sharing of law enforcement intelligence, sharing of state resources, and sharing of other law enforcement resources) of the Interstate Compact for Border Security upon its submission by the governor to the legislature for approval. The exact fiscal impact of this provision is indeterminable, as any expenditures associated with the appropriation are contingent on what may be included within the compact, which is unknown.
