EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in Local Funds expenditures for local governing authorities if a person is convicted of knowingly publishing the personal information of a protected individual with knowledge or reasonable knowledge that publishing the personal information poses an imminent and serious threat to the protected individual. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation to local governing authorities is indeterminable, since it creates a crime, and it is not known how many people will be convicted and incarcerated in local facilities, nor the length of the sentences assessed with those convictions as a result of its potential enactment. The maximum imprisonment term at the local level is no more than 90 days.

There is no anticipated direct material effect on state governmental expenditures as a result of this measure because this legislation creates a misdemeanor offense; therefore, these offenders are not sentenced to the Department of Public Safety & Corrections - Corrections Services (DPS&C - CS).

Proposed law may also result in an increase in Local Funds and SGF expenditures in public entities, to the extent that they fail to comply with notice and time obligations and are subsequently ordered to pay damages and attorney’s fees relative to litigation associated with failure to remove personal information of protected individuals. The exact fiscal impact of the proposed law is indeterminable, as the number of violations and the amount of corresponding litigation that may arise as a result of its enactment is unknown.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in local revenues as a result of convictions of knowingly publishing the personal information of a protected individual with knowledge or reasonable knowledge that publishing the personal information poses an imminent and serious threat to the protected individual. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation on local revenue is indeterminable because fines that would be imposed on those convicted are optional and variable in nature. The potential revenue will accrue to the local governing authority.
