EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

The bill does not increase or decrease direct revenues to the state. The State Bond Commission has the power to impose fees on debt applications, including application and closing fees relate to such issuance of debt. Present law requires two State Bond Commission approvals for certain debt issuance of a public trust for which the State Bond Commission only collects one application fee for both approvals. A reduction in the number of Sate Bond Commission approvals will not change the amount collected from application and closing fees. Debt issuances by public trusts will still require State Bond Commission approval.
