
The original instrument and the following digest, which constitutes no part of the legislative instrument, were prepared by Michelle Ducharme.

DIGEST

Peacock (SB 81)

Present law provides no person shall undertake, offer to undertake, or agree to perform home improvement contracting services unless registered with and approved by the Residential Building Contractors Subcommittee (subcommittee) of the State Licensing Board for Contractors (board) as a home improvement contractor. Present law provides for a list of exceptions to the registration requirement, one of which is an exception for a homeowner who physically performs home improvement work on his personal residence.

Proposed law adds an exception to the present law home improvement contracting registration requirement for a person who physically performs home improvement work on other property owned by him when the work has a value of less than $7,500.

Effective August 1, 2013.

(Amends R.S. 37:2175.5(A)(2))

Summary of Amendments Adopted by Senate

Committee Amendments Proposed by Senate Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection, and International Affairs to the original bill

1. Revises language to provide that no individual shall undertake on his own property self-performed home improvement contracting services having a value in excess of $7,500 unless registered and approved as a home improvement contractor.

Summary of Amendments Adopted by House

Committee Amendments Proposed by House Committee on Commerce to the engrossed bill.

1. Adds an exception to the requirement of home improvement contracting registration for a person who physically performs home improvement work on property owned by him when the work has a value of less than $7,500.