

Existing law allows any board or commission within the La. Dept. of Agriculture and Forestry (LDAF) to require an applicant to provide his social security number on applications for licenses, permits, or certificates.

New law retains existing law and adds LDAF as an authorized entity to require each applicant's social security number on applications for licenses, permits, or certificates.

Existing law requires any board or commission within LDAF to maintain the confidentiality of an applicant's social security number.

New law retains existing law and adds the department to the confidentiality requirement.

Effective August 1, 2013.
