Provides relative to special civil proceedings

Proposed law allows courts to hold expedited hearings necessary to make declaratory judgments determining the constitutionality of expenditures. Proposed law also repeals R.S. 13:4062, which prevents courts from granting injunctions and restraining orders on state expenditures that would create a budget deficit.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Effects on expenditures cannot currently be calculated as the proposed law does not indicate any specific expenditures that may be challenged in court, but allows for the possibility of expenditures to be challenged in the future. The proposed law would allow courts to make a legal determination of the validity of an expenditure in a timely manner. Although proposed law calls for expedited court cases to determine constitutionality, the length of those cases will vary and the ultimate decisions may prolong the availability of expenditures for an unforeseen amount of time.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
