Provides relative to home- and community-based long-term care services provided by direct service workers

Proposed law revises criteria for direct service workers that provide personal care or other services and supports to person with disabilities or who are elderly. Proposed law excludes care provided as part of a self-direct program authorized by the Department of Health and Hospitals (DHH). Proposed law revises criteria for individuals that elect the self-directed option. Proposed law shall be known as "Bailey's Law".

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

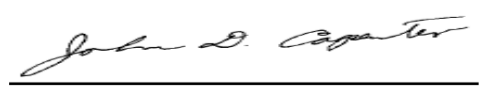

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. Proposed legislation revises certain requirements upon direct service workers and individuals that are served by these direct service workers in the self-directed option of home and community-based services (HCBS). Specifically, proposed legislation exempts direct service workers employed by waiver recipients in the self-directed option from the rigorous training currently required of all direct service workers to administer any medication and perform non-complex medical tasks. Direct service workers employed by a Department of Health and Hospitals (DHH) program will receive training developed by DHH and the LA State Board of Nursing. Also, proposed legislation removes the requirement that the individuals receiving the HCBS have the ability to self-direct; therefore allowing family members or others the ability to direct workers.

Presently, approximately 4% of individuals receiving HCBS elect the self-directed option (i.e., the ability to direct workers). According to DHH, the revised requirements will not impact expenditures as this measure is not anticipated to change the percentage of individuals electing the self-directed option.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
