Provides with respect to interim and final spousal support

Present law (C.C. Art. 112) authorizes the court to award final spousal support and provides certain factors to consider in determining the amount and duration, including financial obligations of the parties. Proposed law retains present law and clarifies that financial obligations includes any interim allowance or final child support obligation. Present law (C.C. Art. 113) authorizes the court to award interim spousal support when a demand for final spousal support is pending and provides factors to consider. Proposed law retains present law and adds that any interim allowance or final child support obligations as factors to consider in awarding interim spousal support.
