EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

The Senate Commerce Committee amendment creates the Lifeline Assistance Program Compliance statute in which state agencies may execute a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with a telephone service provider granting the provider access to the agency's databases, unless prohibited by federal law or regulation. Based on committee testimony, the legislation will serve as a way for telephone service providers to determine if a participant in the Lifeline Assistance Program meets the criteria for eligibility. The eligibility will be determined if a participant receives any of the following public assistance programs: Medicaid, Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program, Supplement Security Income, National School Lunch, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, or Federal Public Housing.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
